

We hope everyone had a wonderful Spring Break!

Donuts for Dads

Thursday, April 25, 2019

8:30am-9:30am

Calling all Dads and Father Figures

Join us for conversations around co-parenting, homework help at home, positive communication with our children, and more.

Meet and connect with other "Creative City Dads"!

INTENT TO RETURN FORMS

Several weeks ago, your student should have come home with an orange "Intent to Return" form. The deadline for the return of this form was before Spring Break. However, we realize that sometimes things get lost or don't make it home to you. We have an online survey that you can fill out instead.

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/QWSSY32>

This form helps us plan for next year and we need the information from it ASAP.

We are designing a mural! We need you!

We are excited that we received funding to design a mural that will cover the whole front of our building! The first phase of this work will be a community design process. We want to hear from YOU about your ideas for a mural that best represents our school! Students, parents, and neighbors are invited to a design workshop on Saturday, April 27 from 2:00 to 4:00pm.

This design process is possible because of a grant from the Arts Every Day Impact Fund. Our school will be working with artist landry Randriamandroso. You may know his work from the bird series on York Road, or the new mural at Callowhill Aquatic Center! He's incredible!

PARRC TESTING STARTS NEXT WEEK

PARCC testing is approaching for students in Grades 3, 4 and 5. 4th and 5th grade will begin testing next Monday, April 29th, and testing will continue through the end of May. This week, teachers in tested grades will share specific testing schedules and ways that parents can support their students during testing. Our goal is for students to enter testing calm, confident, and ready to give their best effort.

Creative City PCS is a Title I Baltimore City Public School